MORE SENSATIONAL.

Jones Strengthens His Testimony
With More Details.

REPEATS HIS STORY.

An Attempt to Weaken His Evidence
Proves Fruitless—Patrick's Defense Will Be a General Denial of the Evidence.

New York, April 4.—Charles F. Jones, who was valet-secretary to William M. Rice, the aged millionaire, who, according to Jones' confession Tuesday, was murdered by the use of chloroform in September last, finished his testimony yesterday on direct examination in the proceedings before Justice Jerome, charging Albert T. Patrick with murder. When court adjourned on Tuesday people went out of the little room in which Justice Jerome was conducting the examination of Lawyer Patrick filled with wonder at the extraordinary story of the man who confessed that he had placed over the face of his benefactor as he slept a folded napkin, saturated with chloroform, thereby causing the death of the millionaire. Wednesday they heard the same story repeated under a different condition, but with more dramatic surroundings.

The story of the murder and conspiracy which Jones outlined on Tuesday yesterday filled in with a wealth of detail with wonderful coolness and nerve.

According to the story of the valet, he and Patrick had drawn up the bogus will and were waiting with what patience they could for old man Rice to die when a mill burned down in Texas.

Rice's connections there desired to rebuild it and he spoke of advancing the $100,000 or $125,000 required to replace the burned property.

"Patrick told me to use all my influence," said Jones, "with Rice not to rebuild the mill as that would take all the ready cash from the estate."

But Rice insisted on advancing the money and presently authorized a draft for $25,000 from one of his correspondents in Texas. Word of the draft arrived in New York on Saturday and Jones, in accordance with his compact, told Patrick about it. It was only $25,000, but according to the valet Patrick felt that he could not spare even this much out of the millions that he was already counting as his own.

"He then said," testified Jones, "that he would have to do something to get Rice out of the way before Monday when the draft would arrive."

Even more illustrative of the caution and thoroughness of the alleged plot conceived and carried out by the men was another instance related by Jones. The manager of Rice's estate in Texas—a man named Cohen—was in the habit of sending a check made out in his name for his salary to Rice monthly. Rice paid him by signing the check and mailing it back to him. When one of these checks came along and after Rice had signed it and given it to Jones to mail, Jones turned it over to Patrick in order that the latter might practice on the signature. The next check that came from Cohen was signed with the forgery of Rice's name and sent along in order by its passage through the banks of Texas they might test the merit of their forgery. The experiment was an entire success and gave them great confidence in the greater forgeries yet to come.

There was one point at which it was confidently expected Jones would give some sign of emotion. It was even anticipated that he would break down. This was when he was asked about the effort he had made at suicide in the Tombs, but expectation was again disappointed. He told of Patrick's suggestion that he take the whole blame of the whole thing, of his refusal to do so, of Patrick's handing him a knife with which to cut his throat and of the throat cutting itself with as little feeling as he showed the day before when he told how he chloroformed his helpless millionaire benefactor.

But it was on cross examination that Jones really demonstrated that he was emotion-proof. Robert E. Moore, Patrick's lawyer, and the same man who saved Dr. Kennedy from the death chair at the recent trial, went about the cross examination in a spirit of thoroughness that would have dismayed most men. Gradually he felt along the outlines of Jones' story until he had satisfied himself that there was nothing to be gained by a patient siege, and then he attempted to storm Jones' position. When he spoke of the killing of Rice he called it murder and he kept the electric chair in the mind of the man on the witness stand, who answered everything as calmly and quietly as if the thing was merely a perfunctory rehearsal. It was impossible to shake the testimony of the witness. He had a memory like an almanac. Patrick's defense will be a general denial. It will not be revealed in detail until the actual murder trial takes place, which will probably not be until October next. Jones, according to the defense, was the arch conspirator and Patrick was the innocent tool of the valet. The greatest stress will be laid upon the fact by the defense that Jones is a self-confessed perjurer and that in consequence his testimony and confession will obtain no credence.

TEXAS LEGISLATURE.

Aguinaldo-Funston Resolution Causes Much Debate in House.

Austin, April 4.—The house had the Aguinaldo and Funston resolution up today, giving rise to a lengthy debate, during which the Republican party and the military authority were severely roasted.

The senate committee on constitutional amendments reported adversely the amendment allowing state appropriations for exhibitions at fairs and expositions.

The senate adopted the conference committee report on the Galveston commission bill.

The house bill providing for a mineral survey of Texas was passed finally by the senate.

After the resolutions were disposed of yesterday, Mr. Stewart called up the senate amendment to the Fort Worth charter bill and moved concurrence. The amendments were concurred in and the bill was finally passed.

The Galveston grade-raising bill was taken up, the question recurring on the amendment of Mr. Parish and others, including all the storm-stricken counties in the relief offered by the bill.

There was considerable discussion and many points of order, but the bill was engrossed.

The house refused to concur in senate amendments to the house bill reserving to the state the minerals and oil that may be discovered on school, asylum and university lands hereafter leased or sold.

The Dallas charter bill by Messrs. Shaw and Lively was laid before the house. Mr. Strother asked the house to adopt the minority report of the committee, which recommends the senate bill.

The majority report was adopted and the bill engrossed.

Among the bills finally passed were the following:

The bill establishing an industrial school.

Requiring banks to render their surplus and undivided profits for taxation.

Establishing an asylum for imbeciles in connection with the Abilene epileptic asylum.

Providing for the transfer of children from one school district to another.

Providing for the cancellation and destruction of chattel mortgages after six years.

Prohibiting cruelty to animals.

Prohibiting railroads from removing their general offices, shops or round-houses from any town which has given a valuable consideration therefor, or where they have been located five years with an amendment exempting roads which have been consolidated, by acts of the legislature with other roads.

Declaring a C. O. D. shipment of liquor into a local option precinct to be a sale.

The senate finally passed the house six months' appropriation bill amended in a good many particulars. The bill will be sent to the house for concurrence in the amendments.

Mr. Beatty secured the final passage of the house bill permitting surety and guaranty companies having deposits in the state treasury to exchange securities for cash.

After a lengthy wrangle the senate took up the house bill relating to the finding of minerals on school lands. It was amended and passed.

Mr. Hanger called up and had finally passed under a suspension of the rules his bill authorizing the Northern Texas Construction company to build its line from Dallas to Fort Worth.

Mr. Turner secured final passage of his bill permitting the sale of 40 years' time isolated sections or fractions of sections of school land.

The senate passed the final house bill prohibiting railroads from letting Johnson grass grow on right of ways.

A bill was passed authorizing regularly chartered railroads to make extensions and issue bonds thereon to the full value of the new property, and providing that the lien created shall be only on the extension or newly constructed line.

Mr. Beatty secured the final passage of his bill authorizing the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway company to purchase and operate the properties of the Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City and Gulf, Beaumont and Great Northern railways.

In fact everything in the house that day was Texas raised and manufactured with the exception of the meal and that was from Kansas City. Told us they could get Texas meal too, but on account of short crop it cost more than the northern meal. Only a few years ago there was not a packing house in Texas, now every large city in the state has one, and there are scores of flouring mills in the wheat district, and it will be only a few years until Texas rice, Texas sugar, Texas meat, Texas flour, Texas fruits and Texas vegetables will be found in every market in the south."

ICE AND COLD STORAGE PLANT.

Mr. Sam M. Winters Pushing Work to be Ready for Business by May 1st.

An Eagle representative called at the new ice and cold storage plant yesterday and found Mr. S. M. Winters pushing the work towards completion in order to be ready for business by May 1, or by May 10 at the furthest.

The general dimensions of the building, which is admirably constructed for its purposes, are 82x46 feet, with condensing tower 34 feet high. Five carloads of material were used in building the foundation for the big 90-horse power Corliss engine, with a 9000 pound fly wheel. Workmen were busy building a brick foundation under a 125-horse power boiler, 6x16 feet, using therein 20,000 bricks.

The freezing tank is 22x32 feet, and the capacity of the plant 20 tons of ice per day. The storage vault is 22x46 feet and will hold ten carloads of ice. Seventy thousand feet of lumber were used in the building of the storage room. The walls contain six courses of lumber and four double courses of paper. The storage room is designed principally for storing ice and for cooling beer and meats. The patent hinge doors for this room have been specially manufactured by Stephenson & Co. of Chester, Penn. The condensing room is 12x14x26, with a water tank on top.

One well of nice, soft water has been completed at a depth of 258 feet, with 182 feet of water in it—a supply of 40 gallons per minute by the use of the air lift. Another well is down 180 feet, and will be sunk to the depth of the first one, giving an abundant water supply. Erecting Engineer Harvey is here representing the manufacturers Fred W. Wolf & Co., of Chicago, and will put up the machinery and get the plant under headway before his departure. When completed this enterprise will have cost above $20,000.

An ice and cold storage plant has long been needed in this city, and the Eagle believes it will be a marked success. Mr. Winters is well pleased with Bryan and the business outlook here.

RAPID PROGRESS.

Russia Extending Material Aid to Her Merchant Marine.

Washington, April 4.—A recent rapid development in the Russian merchant marine is recorded in a report received at the state department from United States Consul Kehle at Stettin. Her merchant fleet, which a few years ago consisted of a few steamers and about 200 Finnish sailing ships, now number more than 3000 steamships including river steamers. An imperial ukase recently put in force limited the Russian coast trade to her own steamers. This covers the trade between European and Asiatic Russia, but owing to the heavy war demand in Asiatic Russia, this part of the empire is temporarily exempt from the decree. However, just as soon as this demand ceases, it is certain, according to the consul, that the exemption will be withdrawn, and the coast trade law strictly enforced.

For several years, it is said, Russia has paid all the Suez canal dues on her steamers bound from European to Asiatic Russia and on her steamers bound to any Asiatic foreign port, the empire pays two-thirds of the canal dues. In many other ways government aid is extended to the merchant marine. Until 1908 anchors, chains, cable and sailing ship tackle are admitted into Russia free of duty. From Jan. 1, 1899 foreign built iron vessels imported in the whole and intended for external navigation are duty free and likewise all vessels in the Danube under the Russian flag.

GAS CAUGHT FIRE.

A Well at Beaumont Shooting a Flame High in the Air.

Beaumont, Tex., April 4.—A disastrous fire is in progress in the oil field. Hogwood's well on the Higgins Oil company property struck a heavy flow of gas about 8:15 o'clock last night and the gas caught fire from a torch in the hands of workmen. The flame shot into the air high above the derrick and continued to burn a bright blaze. The derrick was destroyed and all the machinery greatly damaged. No one was injured.

This well is near the Hamill well, which developed the same gas feature a few days ago and which played out after four or five hours. Water, mud and rock are shooting out of the pipe 60 feet high and the contact with the flames makes a cloud of steam.

No oil is coming from the well, and it is not contemplated that there will be any further damage done. Following the example of the other mud gusher, it is thought the gas will die out. The well is about 800 feet deep.

GREAT BRITAIN'S PREMIER

Lord Salisbury May Hand in His Resignation Before Long.

New York, April 4.—A dispatch to The Tribune from London says parliament has risen for the Easter recess after a session more satisfactory to the opposition than to the government. The record of business is meager, but that is a small matter in comparison with the lack of energy and judgment with which the house of commons has been led.

The continuance of Salisbury in power for many weeks is doubted by some of the most experienced parliamentary hands. There are rumors that he had sought to offer his resignation before his departure for Beaulieu, and that A. J. Balfour will be found in the upper house when parliament reassembles. Another version is that nothing will be done for a fortnight, and Salisbury may hand in his resignation before long.

bury may be content to remain in office until the close of the session if his health improves on Riviera.

Denial from Senator Hanna.

New York, April 4.—Senator Hanna's attention was called to the report that J. Pierpont Morgan had formed a syndicate to buy the rights of the French Panama Canal company and that in conversation with the president and Senator Hanna, Mr. Morgan had advocated the abandonment of the Nicaraguan route.

"Yes, I have seen the report," he said, "and you may say for me, that there is not a word of truth in it. Personally I have never expressed a preference for any route, but as for this story, I have never heard of such a thing. If Mr. Morgan is going into the canal business, I am not in his confidence."

Disastrous Snow Storm.

Pittsburg, April 4.—Pittsburg was the center of a snowstorm that began early Wednesday morning and continued till doing about $250,000 damage, rendered practically useless for a time every electric wire in the city, suspended all street car travel and in the early hours isolated the city from the outside world. A heavy rain fell before the storm came and all reports from up-river points tell of rising streams which may bring about a flood here and below.

BOTHA'S LETTER.

What He Wrote to Kitchener About Negotiations for Peace.

London, April 4.—A letter from Gen. Botha, the Boer commander-in-chief, to Kitchener, preliminary to the recent peace meeting, casually referred to in Kitchener's report of negotiations and from which opponents of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain hoped to obtain some clue of the recent failure of the conference, is published in the parliamentary paper. The letter is dated at the commandant general's camp, Feb. 13, and says:

"I have the honor to inform your excellency that no one desires more than I to bring this bloody strife to an end. I would also very much like to meet your excellency for the purpose of a mutual discussion to see if it is not possible to discover terms under which this can be done."

The remainder of the letter merely suggests the place of meeting and arrangements for safe conduct.

INSULT TO BRITISH.

Lord Carrington and Suite Affronted on Their Return from Lisbon

London, April 4.—Dispatches received here from Paris reiterate the stories of affronts to Lord Carrington and suite while returning from Lisbon after formally announcing King Edward's accession to King Charles of Portugal.

It seems the train on which the mission traveled conveyed a number of nurses returning from the Boer army. The result, says the dispatch to Exchange Telegraph company from Paris, was that at every station there were violent anti-British scenes. Lord Carrington and his suite were openly insulted, while the nurses were greeted with loud cheers. The situation became so intolerable that the British mission finally changed trains.

"Success is the realization of the estimate which you place upon yourself"

That's why we are so well pleased when people say,—"You Don't Have to Apologize for Riding on the Denver Road." We knew that we had the handsomest train and most perfect service in the Southwest when we put on those up-to-date Pullmans, modern Coaches and Luxurious Cafe-cars. The people have caught on now. The ladies appreciate the extra large dressing-rooms in our sleepers every one is delighted with those new Coaches,—and, it is a veritable joy to take your meals in the Cafe-cars! Because of these advantages, also our much the shortest time, nearly everybody goes to Colorado our way. They enjoy going through without change.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by Wilson-Jenkins Drug Co.

SPANISH WAR CLAIMS

The Commission Will Soon Be Ready for Business.

RUN INTO MILLIONS.

It Is Intimated That Many of the Claimants Have Poor Show of Getting Anything and Many Claims Are Worthless.

Washington, April 4.—The organization of the Spanish war claims commission which will be effected next week, with Ex-Senator Chandler as president, is drawing fresh attention to Cuban claims. The total amount of damage asked now foots up $30,000,000, and though six months is allowed for filing claims after the commission organizes, it is not probable that the list will be greatly extended. Nearly all the pending claims have been taken up by lawyers as contingent ones, the usual fee stipulated being 33 1/3 per cent of the amount allowed. One firm, which has a large international business has filed claims for various clients to the aggregate amount of $3,000,000.

There are a number of claims of Cuban-Americans which were taken up by the state department and pressed on the Spanish government for reparation for injuries inflicted or for imprisonment. In two or three cases of this kind the Spanish government had agreed to make compensation for the injuries. Among these is that of Mrs. Ruiz, the widow of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, who it was charged was killed in jail near Havana in the last days of President Cleveland's administration. Mrs. Ruiz filed a claim for $75,000 damages and since the death of her husband has been living in Washington in poverty. It is part of the unwritten history of the Spanish-American war that the Spanish government had agreed to pay this claim, when the explosion of the Maine ended all possibility of a peaceful settlement of the Cuban question.

Among the claimants for property losses there are a few Spaniards who may get some compensation because they managed to have their plantations placed in American hands or had formed American partnerships. There are also a few Cuban planters whose estates were so heavily mortgaged that they were glad to let them pass into American ownership. Some subjects of Europeans also managed to acquire American citizenship, just as a good many Cubans acquired it. One of this class of naturalized Europeans has a claim for nearly $1,000,000 for damages done to his plantation.

A glance at the list of claimants shows that about three-fourths of them are Cuban or Spanish names. One heavy claim is made by a Cuban planter, who was a leading spirit in the insurrection and whose plantation was for a time the headquarters of Maceo. He was in Havana all through the insurrection, and while the Spanish authorities suspected him of complicity in it they never were able to catch him, and his American citizenship protected him from arrest on mere suspicion. Another claimant is an American citizen who represented a number of manufacturing concerns in the United States, and who had lived in Cuba for 30 or 40 years. He asks about $300,000 for damages suffered through the interruption of his business. Several of the bona fide American claimants may be embarrassed by their action in the insurrection. As a rule the genuine American citizens who had property interests in Cuba, though they despised the Spanish government, had no sympathy with the insurgents. Dupuy de Lome, when he was the Spanish minister, enlisted this class to show that there was no real insurrection and that the island was pacified. They wrote letters declaring that everything was moving smoothly and that there was no interruption of work on the plantations.

One of the most prominent of this class made frequent visits to Washington for personal conferences with congressmen and officials. He would cite his own plantation as evidence of the perfect protection which was afforded by the Spanish authorities and in contravention of the stories of the damages which the insurgents were able to inflict. Notwithstanding these assurances this American planter has put in a heavy bill for losses to his property in the insurrection. As many of his letters are said to be on file, it may be awkward for him when the lawyer come to present his claim before the commission.

STEAMER GOES ASHORE.

Providence, April 4.—Steamer Chester W. Chapin plying between Providence and New York went ashore on Patience island in Narragansett bay Wednesday night in heavy fog while feeling her way out of Providence. The passengers were all taken off and sent forward by rail. Officials think the vessel is not seriously damaged.

RUNAWAY GIRL FOUND.

New York, April 4.—The runaway daughter of a cousin of the duke of Hamilton has been found in this city, posing as a model for the Art Students' league. She was located through efforts of Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister at Washington and will be returned.

BRITISH CASUALTIES FOR MARCH.

London, April 4.—The British casualties in South Africa for March were 9 officers and 103 men killed and 26 officers and 270 men wounded.

AGUINALDO'S WISHES.

He Does Not Desire Office, but Wants to Visit the United States.

Manila, April 4.—Chief Justice Arellano, who administered to Emilio Aguinaldo the oath of allegiance to the United States, described yesterday to the Associated Press the conditions leading up to and attending the ceremony, which was semi-private.

Aguinaldo, still detained in an apartment of the Malacanang palace and awaiting orders from Washington, had expressed himself as anxious to learn more regarding the American system of government and had asked Chief Justice Arellano to enlighten him. The chief justice carefully explained the various measures passed by the Philippine commission headed by Judge Taft and showed him what provisions were made for education and progress of the municipal and provincial self government. Listening with deep interest, Aguinaldo finally exclaimed:

"I never believed the Americans would be so fair and liberal."

Before the conversation had ended he had agreed to take the oath of allegiance, and this was immediately administered. Senor Arellano says:

"Aguinaldo's action will induce all the insurgents to surrender and I predict that the islands will be completely pacified by June. Aguinaldo is eager to visit the United States, but when I questioned him on the subject of holding office he replied that he had no desire in that direction and intended to retire to private life after a trip to the United States."

It is reported here that President McKinley has invited Aguinaldo to visit the United States and that the former insurgent leader may sail from Manila April 15.

General MacArthur, when questioned regarding the rumor, said he had absolutely nothing to communicate.

AGUINALDO WILL URGE PEACE.

Manila, April 4.—Aguinaldo is preparing his manifesto. The chief of the revolution will urge the insurgents to cease fighting and accept American sovereignty.

AGUINALDO'S INVITATION.

His Coming to the United States Originated in Manila.

Washington, April 4.—The report from Manila that the president has invited Aguinaldo to visit the United States and that he will sail from Manila about April 15 cannot be verified here, but the fact that the report is not received with surprise or positively denied, justified the impression given that the suggestion is one originating in Manila, and that it may have been urged upon the war department and the president for early acceptance.

Attention is directed by the war department to the fact that great confidence has been placed upon the recommendations of the military authorities and the Philippine commission is dealing with problems as they have arisen and if General MacArthur has asked that Aguinaldo be allowed to come to Washington to see the president it is not denied that there may be great probabilities that the recommendation will be carried out.

FUNSTON'S COMMISSION SIGNED.

Washington, April 4.—The president signed the commissions of Lloyd Wheaton as major general and Jacob S. Smith and Frederick Funston as brigadier generals of the United States army. The commissions of Wheaton and Smith bearing date March 30, and that of Funston April 1.

AGUINALDO NOT INVITED.

Washington, April 4.—The president and Secretaries Hay and Root were in conference this morning. The subject of consultation was not disclosed, although it is surmised it related to the Chinese situation. Secretary Hay stated the government had no official advice confirming press reports that China had definitely refused to sign the Manchurian agreement with Russia.

Secretary Root pronounced the stories that Aguinaldo had been invited to come or that he was coming to the United States in the immediate future to be baseless.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

Washington, April 4.—The following presidential appointments have been announced: W. H. Clayton, to be judge of the United States court, general district of the Indian Territory.

Benjamin F. Hackett to be marshal of the United States central district of Indian Territory.

WEATHER STATION AT TAYLOR.

Washington, April 4.—Secretary Wilson has authorized Chief Moore of the weather bureau to establish a full meteorological station at Taylor, Tex. The closing of the station at Palestine, Tex., is held in abeyance. The people of that section have submitted protests against the proposed discontinuance, and action has been deferred.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The laying of the corner stone of the new cotton mill at Gonzales, Tex., will be made the occasion of a big celebration April 10.

A monument will be erected by Kansas on the site in Republic county where the American flag was first unfurled to the Kansas breezes, Sept. 29, 1806. The corner stone will be laid July 4.

Coal has been discovered within the city limits of Beatrice, Neb., and the find will be developed.

W. A. Murry of Allensville, Ky., had a bantam hen that is 20 years old. She has not laid since she was 18, when she laid three eggs.

Strawberry shipments from the berry growing sections of Texas, have begun.
